

EDEN AESTHETICS APPOINTS Dr. Benji Dhillon as Key Opinion Leader

Leading aesthetic distributor Eden Aesthetics has announced the appointment of renowned aesthetic practitioner Dr. Benji Dhillon as JetPeel Key Opinion Leader (KOL). With extensive experience in aesthetic medicine and non-surgical treatments, Dr. Dhillon will collaborate with Eden Aesthetics to support the unique JetPeel technology industry education as well as launching the Eden Aesthetics JetPeel PR showcase at the Define Clinic, Fitzrovia.

Dr. Dhillon, founder of Define Clinic, is a leading figure in aesthetic medicine, known for his expertise in non-invasive treatments and commitment to patient safety. A graduate of King's College London, he has trained in prestigious institutions, including Harley Street, and has worked alongside global aesthetic brands as a KOL. Recognised as one of Tatler's Favourite UK Injectors, Dr. Dhillon frequently lectures internationally on aesthetic treatments and patient-centric approaches.

Through this partnership, Dr. Dhillon will play a pivotal role in educating practitioners on Eden Aesthetics' portfolio of advanced skincare technologies. His expertise will enhance clinical training and drive awareness of scientifically backed, results-driven treatments offered by Eden Aesthetics.

Eden Aesthetics continues to lead the way in the distribution of cutting-edge aesthetic treatments, working with globally recognised brands and industry leaders to bring the latest advancements to medical and aesthetic professionals.

"I am delighted to partner with Eden Aesthetics, a company that shares my commitment to excellence in aesthetic medicine. Their dedication to providing evidence-based, high-performance skin treatments aligns with my philosophy of delivering the best possible outcomes for patients."

Dr. Benji Dhillon

"Dr. Dhillon's reputation as a leading aesthetic expert makes him an invaluable addition to our team. His knowledge and experience will be instrumental in furthering our mission to support practitioners with the most advanced skincare innovations."

Lindsay Gray, Managing Director of Eden Aesthetics

ABOUT DR BENJI DHILLON

Dr Benji Dhillon, founder of Define Clinic, is a leading aesthetic practitioner specialising in non-invasive aesthetic treatments. A King's College London graduate, he trained in Harley Street and is a KOL for several aesthetic brands. He is also a global speaker and one of Tatler's Favourite UK Injectors.

www.defineclinic.com

Eden Aesthetics specialises in results-driven skincare and advanced technology, trusted by leading medical practitioners worldwide. They also provide high-performance treatments and offer expert training to help clinics and salons achieve exceptional results.

For further information or to book a press treatment contact:
Jenny Pabila +44 7971 032 570 | jennypabila@nichepublicrelations.com